Letting you know about a recall of your CPAP machine

Dear <Member First Name>,

Our records show that you purchased a Continuous Positive Airway Pressure (CPAP) or a Bi-level Positive Airway Pressure (BiPAP) machine, or supplies for these machines, within the past five years.

We're writing you to make sure you've heard about the Philips Respironics recall of some sleep and respiratory care machines. We encourage you to find out if your device is included in the recall, and what to do, by visiting philips.com/SRC-update or by calling 877-907-7508.

What you need to know

On the website, you'll see that Philips Respironics learned that a sound-reduction foam used in some of their machines could degrade into small particles or give off certain chemicals. They issued a voluntary recall of these machines in June 2021.

What you need to do

If you currently use a machine that has been recalled, we urge you to talk to your health care provider about alternative treatments.

Questions about the recall should be directed to Philips Respironics. If you have any questions about your benefits, call Highmark Member Service at 1-800-633-2563 or at the phone number on the back of your member ID card.

Sincerely,

Member Service
