

Bio of Rachel Jenkins
Administrative Officer
Delaware Developmental Disabilities Council (DDC)

My name is Rachel Engle, and I am the Administrative Officer for the Delaware Developmental Disabilities Council.

I have an associate degree in nursing and human Services; my previous work experience includes healthcare, working with the Mayor of the City of Dover, and the Assistant City Clerk for the City of Dover.

My passion for working with people with disabilities and being a strong advocate comes from being a mom to a beautiful girl with autism.
